Houston Deserves Better
Financial Management

City politicians have refused to account for their out-of-control spending and have ignored the clear financial difficulties facing Houston for too long.

As Controller, Bill Frazer will protect taxpayers by:

- Stopping out-of-control spending and restore city services
- Finding fair and equitable solutions to the city’s pension crisis
- Ensuring the drainage fee is spent as voters intended

Bill Frazer is a CPA with over 35 years of experience

“Houston is a can-do city that we all choose to call home. It’s a model of what a great American city can be. But we must have the courage to face the current financial difficulties head on; we can no longer push these issues down the road. I’m not a politician. I’m a CPA with the qualifications and experience to put Houston on the road to fiscal health.”
